Remember the TV show "Frasier", where he ran an on-air psychology radio show based in Seattle with the catchphrase "I'm listening"?

Imagine that concept for animals, with a dose of Dr. Doolittle thrown in!

ANIMAL CALLS is a call-in show where you can ask tough questions about your pets and animals and why they behave as they do.

Karpathia Kingsley is a Certified Animal Behaviorist, with a certificate from the University of Washington in Seattle. It's a real thing, not some mumbo jumbo.

Animal Calls is making its debut at noon Pacific Time, Friday July 16th on [KKNW 1150 AM](http://KKNW 1150 AM) in Seattle and thereafter, every Friday at noon.

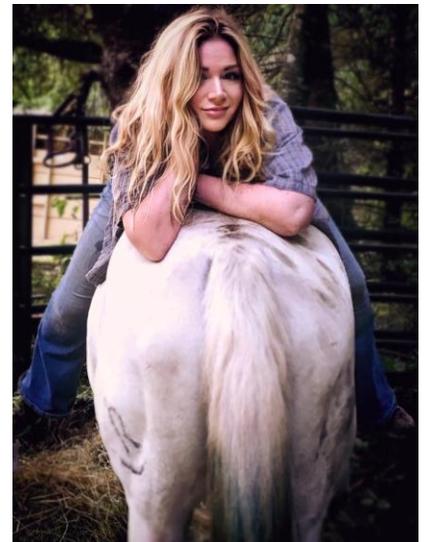

Animals, and especially our pets, are part of the everyday lives of millions of people worldwide. Yet, many people don't really understand the language that animals use to communicate with us. Often, needs communicated in the animal-specific language are misunderstood, leaving us to wonder why animals sometimes do strange, puzzling, annoying, or destructive things in their attempt to get our attention.

That's where ANIMAL CALLS comes to the rescue!

Featuring Certified Animal Behaviorist Karpathia Kingsley, this program will delve into the how's and whys of what your pet is doing, and how it is trying to communicate with you based on the science behind breeding and behavior. We'll take your calls and provide answers! Kingsley is a survivor of the devastating CampFire in Paradise, CA in November 2018 and now resides on the Olympic Peninsula with her entire menagerie of animals.

Tune in every Friday at noon (Pacific Time) to KKNW over the air as heard on Alternative Talk 1150 in Seattle, or [listen live on the web](http://listen live on the web) via streaming.
